VIEWING CASES ON THE *Real*Aligner PLATFORM

WEB PORTAL LOGIN

Step 1. Go to www.realaligner.com and enter the area for Professionals.

Step 2. Then click on the Portal button.

Step 3. This button will take you to the login screen. Enter the email address and password used by the user to register.
Step 4. Go to the client area where you will find the different options offered by the platform.

Step 5. Go to the Your clinical cases section.

- Here the platform shows a list of clinical cases with their case number, date, doctor information, clinic information and current status.

- On selecting any of the listed cases, you will be able to see all available information about the case's current stage and the date of the last report.

- The stage will change as information is uploaded to the system (e.g. once bite registrations have been received and it has been confirmed that they are in the correct format, the case will automatically change to the Planning stage.

- All of these changes are reported to the user by email so that the user is aware, at all times, of their case's current stage.

Step 6. View your planning in the Clinical Cases section using the option to view all available information about the proposed treatment plan: measurements, attachments and case animation that can be used to show the patient the treatment plan designed for them.
Step 7. Treatment guide, the section where all available clinical information about the case can be found, including proposed IPR, attachments, measurements and clinical recommendations.

Step 8. Final decision. Once the case has been reviewed, the user will have various options, depending on the decision made.

- If review case is selected, the platform will give the user the option to specify why a review is requested and to explain, in free text, the changes that should be taken into account for re-planning.

- If accept case is selected, the system will automatically change the stage and the RealAligner team will receive confirmation to start the production process.

- Once the order has been received, the manufacturing process for the aligners will start. The user will be able to follow the entire process from their Stages section and will be promptly informed of any issues with their case.

- The user has a section for direct communication with the *Real*Aligner team, which can be used to convey any questions or queries about their case. These will be answered by the *Real*Aligner team as soon as possible.

Welcome to The revolution of smiles!
